UNION VODIVIL OPENS SENIOR WEEK PROGRAM

Pan-Hellenic Act Most Unique—
All Acts to be Different at Big Show.

SENIOR PROM JUNE 2

Pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon and Faculty-Pyramid Ball Game on Alumni Day

Today is April 29; Senior Week comes on apace. By May 29 all plans will be divulged, and all tickets sold for the many affairs that will make Senior Week a single round of gayety.

Pan-Hellenic will enter her brightest and best in one of the most unique acts ever staged, which will be but one of the many attractions of the one and only incomparable Union Vodivil. So far as possible the management has tried to have no two acts exactly alike; that is to say, cut off the same pattern. This riot of color and feast of talent will be held in the auditorium of Central High School May 31. Tickets will be on sale at the Treasurer's office at Columbian College, the Law School, the Medical School, Pearlman's book store and Spaulding's.

Sunday the entire Senior Class, weather permitting, will assemble on the back campus for baccalaureate sermon. Seniors will be attired in cap and gown, as befits the dignity of such an occasion.

Monday will be devoted to final Prom preparations.

Monday night will be ushered in by a specially designed moon that has been arranged for that night only. With it will come the scent of June roses and the persuasive wall of dance music. Prom in June with a roof garden, music, possibly punch, and all the excitement attendant upon such an occasion will be forced to be a success. Added to that will be a measure of wistfulness attendant on the last dance of the year. The admission is only five dollars, with no extras. Tickets are on sale at the Treasurer's office at Columbian College, Law School, and Medical School.

Tuesday, Alumni Day, will be one of the most crowded days on a full calendar. In the morning there will be a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon, an Alumni luncheon at noon, Faculty and Pyramid baseball game in the afternoon, and the President's reception in the evening. Such a program needs no other recommendation than publishing.

Wednesday will be the big day for the Seniors. Commencement exercises will be held in the Continental Memorial Hall, Wednesday afternoon, June 4. After all, commencement is the final affair.

POTOMAC BREEZE FRIDAY

"Potomac Breeze," the single issue of the newspaper to be published by members of English 46, the morning class in journalism, will make its first appearance Friday and will be on sale on the campus at ten cents a copy.

MANAGERS' NOTICE

Applications for managers and assistants of the following teams for the ensuing year must be submitted to C. Melville Walker, Chairman of Athletic Committee, before the next meeting of the Student Council on May 7: Manager of men's tennis; assistant managers of men's tennis and basketball; managers and assistants of women's tennis, women's swimming, women's rifle, and women's hockey teams.

EXPERIENCED TALENT IN ART CLASS PLAY'S CAST

"A Rose of Persia" Heads Program to Be Given at Art Center
To-morrow

Wednesday evening, April 30, at 8.30 o'clock, the Art Center on Connecticut Avenue at L Street will change from twentieth century Washington to seventeenth century Persia, when the Archeology Classes will present "A Rose of Persia," a one-act play written and produced by Prof. William Northrop Morse. This play will be the main feature in an interesting program arranged by the Art Classes.

Besides the one-act play there will be several musical numbers followed by a dance after the program. The proceeds of the evening will be given to the Dean Wilbur portrait fund.

"A Rose of Persia," written by Prof. Morse, will make its first appearance to-morrow evening. It is a fanciful, whimsical affair written entirely in blank verse. The scene is laid in ancient Persia when there were magicians, high priests, and beautiful princesses.

Prof. Morse has not only written the play but has designed the costumes and acted as director.

Mrs. Marguerite Mulligan, of the University, who has had experience on the professional stage, will take the leading part in the play. The cast is as follows:

Princess—Mrs. Marguerite Mulligan
Zien—Pauline Bruner
Magician—Evangeline Lovett
Stranger—Kermit Girdner
High Priest—Adelaide Dwyer

LIBRARIAN ASKS HELP IN ENFORCING RULES

The University Librarian issues the warning that since spring is really here and the spring fever that attends it, it is very easy for students to rush into the Library and deposit their hat and coat or whatever they may want to get rid of, "but beware!" Students who have been doing this may have to go the Dean's office to claim belongings and do a little explaining besides. The Library rules state: That no coats, hats, umbrellas, nor packages of any kind be left in the Library; and that no brief cases, newspapers, nor trash be left on the Library desks, nor anything which would hinder the use of the desk.

Attention is also called to the rule which states that no magazines nor tickets be sold, nor any other business connected with student activities be conducted in the Library.

Library officials ask the cooperation of the students in observing these and other rules of the Library.

PUBLICATIONS EDITORS ELECTED BY COUNCIL

Fred Youngman Chosen for Hatchet Job—Perry Picked for Cherry Tree.

OTHER POSITIONS FILLED

Girls' Basketball Team Awarded Letters and Numerals—Resolution Passed

Either trying to make up for lost time or to overcome the loss of motion by the postponement of past meetings, the Student Council, at its assembly on April 22, covered plenty of ground and displayed the right spirit for a rejuvenated body.

Elections to the positions of editor and business manager of both publications, managers and assistant managers of different sports, and awarding of letters to the Girls' Basketball Team was only a part of the business performed in their endeavor to complete the appointments of student leaders for the coming scholastic year.

Frederick B. Youngman, associate editor of the University Hatchet in 1924, was elected to serve as editor of the Hatchet for 1925. Youngman has served on the staff for two years in the capacity of reporter and associate editor.

The Cherry Tree editorship will be filled by Arthur Perry, who has served for the last two years as one of the staff editors on that publication. Both Youngman and Perry are members of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, having been admitted on February 29, 1924.

Business managers for the two publications elected were F. W. Darnier, University Hatchet, and Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., for the Cherry Tree.

Following the election of publication officials the council turned to the selection of leaders for different sports. Alice Haines was elected to the position of manager of girls' basketball; Gilbert Ludwig manager of track; and Irvin McGrew assistant manager of men's basketball.

In accepting the report of the Girls' Basketball Team for this year the council voted to award letters to the following members: Alice Ewers, Mary Bixler, Bee Woodford, Grace Young, Winifred Faunce, Marguerite Daly, manager, Catherine Shoemaker, and Daisy Robison. Numerals were awarded Ella April, Katherine Edmonston, and Alice Haines, assistant managers.

Daisy Robison, elected by the council at a previous meeting of that body to serve next year as a hold-over member, declined to accept, and James C. Davis was chosen to fill the Columbian College vacancy.

Discussion on the taxation for activity fees resulted in the unanimous adoption of a resolution approving the proposed plan.

The next meeting of the council will be held May 7, and notice is served that applications to the vacant positions to be filled by election of the council must be submitted on or before that date.

After the completion of South port Professor Bobby B will be eligible for a B. L. (brick layer) degree and qualified to take an active part in the construction of the Greater G. W.

PAN-HEL LUNCH APRIL 30

Luncheon will be served by the Pan-Hellenic council to-morrow on the back campus from 12.00 to 2.00, according to Marguerite Daly, who has been made chairman of the committee.

The campus will be arranged in carnival style, each sorority having a booth and each will serve something different.

The Pan-Hellenic Council recently voted to present the girls' basketball team with gold basketballs in recognition of the splendid record made by the team this season, and the proceeds from this luncheon are to be used for this purpose.

G. W. DEBATING TEAM MEETS PITTSBURGH MAY 3

World Court Plan Will Be Upheld By Team Which Recently Lost to Boston U.

George Washington debating team will go to Pittsburgh May 3 to debate the prize debating assortment of the Smoky City presented by the University of Pittsburgh on the question, "Resolved, That the courts should be deprived of the final power to declare Federal laws unconstitutional."

The home team, consisting of Henry Temin, Frank Smith, and Karl G. Pearson, debated the same question with the University of Boston on April 15. Their showing there, coupled with the improvements they have made as a result of experience gained in the last debate, should offer good hopes of victory. With the affirmative, they are not defending the popular side of the question, since they shoulder the burden of pointing out that an established form should be materially modified.

The coaching for this as well as other debates has been due in the main to Professor C. S. Collier, of the Law School. His knowledge of law and general versatility have been of inestimable aid to the men.

UNUSUAL ATTENDANCE AT PAN-HELLENIC PROM

Over two hundred couples attended the annual prom of the Pan-Hellenic organization, held last Friday at Rauscher's. Dick Leibert's Sagamo Orchestra helped to make it one of the most successful parties of the season. Refreshments were served at midnight, and the Petticoat, satirical sheet published by Gamma Eta Zeta, was distributed by members of the sorority.

President and Mrs. Lewis, the Deans and their wives, and several of the faculty chaperoned the dance, which lasted from 10 to 2.

The Pan-Hellenic Council had planned to donate the profit from this dance to the endowment fund, and at the last report over a hundred dollars had been cleared and will be given to the endowment.

CORRECTION

Before the review starts a correction must be made. The Pendulum was edited and financed by English 9 instead of English 45, as stated in the last issue. Also the prize offered for the best name was offered and awarded by English 9.

Beatrice Woodford and Meador Wright acted as business and advertising managers, respectively.

PRIZE SONG TO FEATURE MAY 5 CONCERT-DANCE

Winning Lyric of J. B. Lerner Contest to Be Sung By Combined Clubs.

DANCE STARTS AT 10.30.

Happy Walker's Music—Tickets Now
On Sale at $1.50.

Having completed arrangements for the presentation of their concert-dance at the New Willard Hotel, May 5th, the combined Glee Clubs have turned to final practice of the musical selections to be listed on the program.

George Washington University's winning song, composed by a George Washington student, and selected as the best from over fifty other songs presented in the John B. Lerner contest for University lyrics, will be sung by the combined clubs as the feature event of the concert. This will be the first time the song has been sung in public.

Accompanied by their own instrumental section the separate organizations will offer on the program, solos, duets, male quartettes, mixed quartettes, together with several selections by the different clubs and other selections by the combined organizations.

Dance to Follow Concert.
Following the recital, that will start at 8.30 p. m. and be completed at 10.30 p. m., a dance will be held in the main ballroom of the hotel until 2 a. m., with Happy Walker's Orchestra furnishing the music.

Although a strictly informal affair, the concert-dance is scheduled to take the place of the May Carnival that is usually held as a masquerade affair, with gorgeous decorations and weird lighting effects in the hall. The informality of this year's affair is to insure comfort and pleasure, the only difference over the usual May Carnival being the dispensing with the hot masquerade costumes. The hall will be as gorgeously decorated and the lighting effects more weird this year, with novelties offered as added pleasures.

Graham Fly, director of the Men's Club, is in charge of the presentation. Tickets may be obtained from him or any member of either organization—price $1.50 per person.

ENGINEERING FRATERNITY HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of the local chapter of Sigma Tau Honorary Engineering Fraternity held Wednesday evening, April 23, at the Cleves, was well attended by honorary, alumni, and active members as well as the pledges. Honorary members present were Dean Hodgkins and Professors Harris, Lapham, Ames and Platt.

At the recent initiation of Sigma Tau Prof. N. B. Ames and Prof. J. H. Platt were initiated into honorary membership and seven undergraduates, P. W. Burk, L. Disney, A. Hartman, H. P. Hill, H. H. James, R. C. McKay, and C. Yingling.

W. F. Rosser, president of the local chapter, was unanimously elected as delegate to the national convocation to be held at Lincoln, Neb., next November.

The following men have also been pledged to Sigma Tau: R. C. Blatt, J. Buckley, and V. Johannessen.

SWAN SONG

Many and varied emotions are experienced as one lays down the editorial typewriter to another. Happiness at being relieved from the irksome responsibility of a thankless job and regret that it is all over conflict for supremacy.

While our policy, as adopted early in the fall, has not met with entire success, still progress has been noted. A change for better student government will, no doubt, be made next year.

Earlier in the year it had been our hope to issue twice a week. This was found to be impossible, but through the efficient business staff several six and eight page papers were published. In order to be as effective as it should be, the Hatchet must be published at least twice a week and placed in the hands of every student. There is enough news of local campus variety in George Washington University to support a daily. This must be the goal of the Hatchet of the future—published daily and available to every student.

We wish to express our appreciation of the loyal efforts of the coworkers who gave of their time and efforts during the entire year. Best wishes for success are extended to the new editor.

KILL "COMPULSORY"

For the lack of a better title, the suggested change in the present system of collection of activity funds has been called a "Compulsory Tax" or "Compulsory Fee," or some such name that tends to make the students and outsiders believe that in order to promote activities at our University it is necessary to compel the student body to work, rather than the fact that the students voluntarily offer to assist and seek positions in activities that they can best fill.

There is no intent to do harm. There is no intent to deteriorate from the benefits of some new method of taxation, but nevertheless it is not the right name for the proposed plan.

The students can not be said to be compelled to pay a tax when it is called to the attention that the change was suggested by the students themselves and is urgently recommended and pushed by the students' legislative body.

The intent of the new plan will be to create a new system of financing student activities by collecting funds distributed equally over the student body.

So it is plain to see that the name or title best suited to the suggested change would be "A Systematic Method of Financing Student Activities." This obviates the necessity of using the word "compulsory," which tends to imply a condition that does not exist.

So when the Board of Managers, or whatever body may finally pass upon the plan, submits it to the student body, it is suggested by the Hatchet that the caption to the bill read: "A bill adopting 'A SYSTEMATIC METHOD OF FINANCING STUDENT ACTIVITIES.'"

More question: The faculty are standing in back of their "pioneer suffragist." Why?

CONVENTION CONVENES

The clans gathered last week from various parts of the East to attend the Eastern Conference of one of our best-known Greek letter organizations. The streets were thronged with sightseeing souls, gaily attired in new spring clothes and tagged and labeled just like excess baggage.

The White House was the center of interest, for here lives the most important member, past, present, or future, of this inclusive organization.

The daily society columns were crowded with accounts of the entertainment for these visiting delegations, who attracted much attention because of the fact that they moved and were moved en masse. They were afforded as much attention and consideration as the other congress, which convenes and adjourns one knows not when or why.

We wonder what would happen if a department of journalism was established here.

Business Building

THE selling of commodities is fundamental in every business, and selling life insurance affords the maximum of satisfaction and remuneration. For the life insurance salesman is a business builder and finds innumerable ways to serve the community and make himself indispensable in the conduct of modern affairs.

The life insurance salesman is not only a business builder but he is in business for himself, creating a competence permanent and continuous. It is the best paid work for those who are ambitious and willing to work, and who have the character and stamina necessary to stamp their individuality upon the business and on their community.

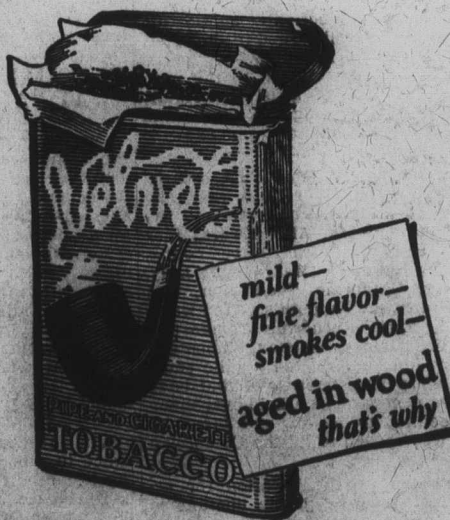

The traditions and practices of the JOHN HANCOCK are such that the college graduate can take a peculiar pride in representing this company. ## PYRAMID TRAINING HARD FOR FACULTY BALL TEAM

Lewis and Hall, of Faculty Nine, Prepared to Defeat Pyramid in Alumni Day Game

Batteries for to-day—Faculty: Lewis and Hall; Pyramid: Brown and McNeil is the cry that will probably be heard Tuesday afternoon, June 3. The occasion will be the baseball games staged as an attraction for Alumni Day of Senior Week.

The Faculty team, which has been organized by Prof. H. G. Doyle, recently challenged the Pyramid Honor Society to a baseball game. Both organizations are now rapidly preparing for the grueling contest.

Prexy Lewis, who is to do the mound work for the Profs, is a finger with some reputation. At the first work-out held Saturday, April 26, Manager "Hank" Doyle was much pleased with the artful heaving of President "Bill" "Gil" Hall, prof in the Law School, is expected to be the battery mate of the president. His experience in debating will no doubt aid him in rattling the opposing batsmen.

The other positions on the Faculty nine have not been filled as yet. Dean Henning, Profs. Bolwell, West, and Doyle are making strenuous efforts to win berths on the team. It appears that Prof. Croissant has beat out all competitors for the position of bat-boy.

The line-up for the Pyramid team was not divulged, although it was intimated that Brown and McNeil will be the battery. Espey, Johnson, Pryor, Laux, Tolson, Shaw, Simmons, Tracy, Cleveland, and Palmer will make strong bids for position on the nine to meet the Faculty.

OPEN LETTER

To the Editor of the Hatchet:

My letter to the University Hatchet of April 1 provoked an unexpectedly warm response from Mr. Edward Scheuffler, a reply in which it was apparent that he was strenuously avoiding the issues involved and attempting to accomplish by sheer verbosity what he could not possibly accomplish by a simple presentation of the facts.

Those who have been so unfortunate as to employ their time in a perusal of his radical and inexplicable document in the Hatchet were no doubt astonished at the unsubstantiated and ludicrous asseverations contained therein. His answer to my conservatively worded communication of the 1st of April was unfortunately characterized by the most childish and trivial attacks upon me personally and by a total and astounding disregard of the questions which the readers of the Hatchet will remember I propounded to the debating managers in my letter, and which, in spite of Mr. Scheuffler's bombast, remain unanswered yet.

The Saturday following New Year's the debating council called a meeting for tryouts for the girls' debating team, a time particularly inauspicious, which move I have not yet known whether to attribute to the customary stupidity of the debating managers or to their deliberate attempt to discourage Columbian College girls from making the debating teams.

Mr. Scheuffler's insidious attempt to attach Professor Croissant to his political chicanery can not blind the students of the Arts and Sciences Department to the real issue. His pettifoggery efforts to detract from the facts as presented in my letter of April 1 by submerging his readers in a slough of magniloquent rhetoric and sonorous phrases has resulted only in the complete negation of his own intellectual pretensions. He has allowed himself to become ensnared in a maze of contradictions, a thing which his political manipulations had hitherto forestalled, and failing to combat the facts which I presented, has attacked my residence instead of my ideas. But it could easily be demonstrated that my isolation from the activities of the debating council in the matter of environment is negligible and inconsequential as compared to the superb isolation from ideas of managing debating teams which is the unhappy lot of some of my fellow members of the council.

Mr. Scheuffler, we understand, is a corn-fed product of Kansas. There

COUNCIL FOR CHANGE IN STUDENT FINANCE

Feels That General Opinion of the Student Body is That Change is Necessary.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

"Logical and Necessary Solution" of Present Financial Difficulties, It States

Taking the stand that the general opinion of the student body is heartily in favor of a general fee for student activities or of a change in the present system of financing the different college endeavors, the Student Council unanimously passed a resolution approving a compulsory fee for next year at their meeting of April 22.

The resolution stated "that a general activity fee is the logical and necessary solution" of the present difficulties in promoting activities from a financial standpoint, and they urgently recommended the adoption of some such plan.

A copy of the resolution was forwarded to President Lewis, the Board of Managers, and the Director of Student Activities.

The resolution reads: "Whereas it is of paramount necessity for their future success that the activities of the George Washington University be placed upon a more stable and permanent financial basis; and

"Whereas the Compulsory Student Activity Fee Committee of the Student Council has ascertained that the general opinion of the student body is heartily in favor of a general fee for student activities; and

"Whereas the Student Council is desirous of promoting the best interests of the University and of the student body, which it represents: Therefore, be it unanimously

Resolved by the Student Council in regular session assembly, Tuesday, April 22, 1924, That a general activity fee is the logical and necessary solution.

"Resolved further, That such a fee is urgently recommended.

"Resolved further, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the University, the Board of Managers, and the Director of Student Activities with the assurance that the Student Council is willing and ready to aid and assist in realizing the objective herein stated."

MEDICS SHOW TRACK FORM

Results of the recent interclass track and field meet showed conclusively that students in the professional schools have time to get out for athletics and can furnish just as good material for the athletic teams as undergraduate schools. The Medical School has again showed its interest in University activities, Spiegler, Littman, and Grass winning twenty-seven points.

Piegler, a former Syracuse University star high jumper, took second places in the high jump, shot put, and broad jump. Littman, a former Fordham University star, annexed first in the shot put, and second in the 100 yard dash and the 380 yard run. Grass, a G. W. Varsity track man and a member of last year's squad, won second in the 50 yard and the 220 yard dashes and third in the 100 yard dash.

LAW PROM A SUCCESS

The endowment prom staged at the Washington Hotel, Saturday evening, by the Junior Law Class was a success in every respect, according to Edwin Brooker, chairman of the committee. Nearly two hundred couples attended the dance.

The proceeds of this dance will be turned over to the George Washington University Endowment Fund.

TIME FOR PETITIONS
SET FOR APRIL 29

Rules Will Be Strictly Enforced During Council Elections on May 5 and 6

The final date for submission of petitions by candidates for election to the Student Council has been extended from April 24th to the 29th. This date was advanced in order to permit those students to file petitions who were unable to secure sufficient signers before the date originally set.

All petitions must be submitted to Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities, or to Milton Friedman, who can be reached at the Medical School, by to-night. Only those names will be printed on the ballots whose petitions have been signed by a sufficient number of students.

According to rules recently adopted by the Board of Managers and the Student Council for the coming election only tax signers will be eligible either to sign petitions or to vote. This rule will be strictly adhered to in an effort to insure a fair election.

A member of the elections committee of the Student Council or a duly authorized subordinate will be stationed at each ballot box during the time the polls are open. Elections will be held May 5 and 6.

To date the following petitions have been submitted: Columbian College—Milton L. Dennis, Stanley A. Clark, Robert W. Pollock, Katherine Edmonston, Joseph T. Caples, and John R. Bromell; Law School—Leighton C. Taylor; Engineering College—L. K. Hyde; Teachers' College—Elsie S. Wright.

Several additional petitions will be submitted before the close of the time allowed.

PENDULUM REVIEW

The Pendulum is out and is a very creditable collection of material. This magazine is the first step ever taken by students in George Washington to produce anything of a purely literary nature.

An unusual high standard has been set by the verse offered. Of this verse, in Hampshire Fields, by William Northrop Morse, instructor in English, is perhaps the best. There is a sweetness of expression that is most appropriate to his theme. The lines are clear and fine, full of repressed fire that is characteristic of New England. Woodland, by Lyne Smith, is a beautiful expression of autumn as it is here around Washington—"Cool, not bitter." Perhaps the most unique offering is Catalepsy, by E. S. Shepherd.

Aside from all other considerations the Pendulum would be decidedly worth while because of inactivity. This drama admits to being a comedy or "the lively farcical type." Since the characters all either die or go insane, the theme of it might be questioned—unless one read the drama. As a poetic melodrama it fairly throbs with life—and chuckles.

The prose might be divided into two classes—serious and frivolous. Of the serious, Thomas H. Seibert's analysis of James Bravier Cabell is especially well done. It is seldom that the universality of Cabell's appeal is recognized. To call him a perfectionist is especially apt.

Of the more frivolous prose, John R. De Witt's Musings of an Idiot is most entertaining. It might be called too true to be funny. Love, however, has been made the butt of so much alleged humor that it is a pleasure to find it cleverly done.

The other contributions are very well selected to make a well-balanced magazine. Most of them show a high degree of originality. The most noticeable thing about the magazine as a whole is the extreme care with which all the articles are written. There are very few careless lines.

Dick Wilkinson is carrying a very difficult subject this semester. It is known as dateology, and in order to receive semester hours' credit he must have a full-fledged appointment with six different girls in the usual class period.
